

Brian Zhu

Lab Practice: Prototype

- The idea for my design is a lego inspired mounting system that attaches from the underside of the car and creates a modular platform that other lego compatible objects can mount on top of. This enables more flexibility for attachments than a rigid design.

